Risk Management Resources

With decades of experience, the Berkley Life Sciences Risk Management team offers strategic consulting and partners with policyholders and brokers to manage, control, and reduce risk across all coverage lines through customized service programs tailored to specific client demands and exposures.

What Others Say About Us

"You are doing more than any other market and I like what I see! I look forward to seeing even more risk management tips that I can pass on to other key employees at my company."

- Risk Manager at a large pharmaceutical manufacturer

Our Service Philosophy

Berkley Life Sciences believes collaboration with our clients is the key to developing a successful risk management program. Sharing our industry expertise and "lessons learned" forges a partnership with our clients to implement unique programs designed to avoid financial loss and reputational damage.

How We Deliver

- Our risk management team partners with life science-focused compliance and safety organizations. Customized client service programs that include operation-specific exposure benchmarking and exposure mitigation goal setting focused on the unique risks presented by your organization.
- On-site consultations and employee training
- Online access to hundreds of safety resources including safety videos, policies and procedures, and trainings

Risk Management Center

Unlock the full potential of your safety and risk management efforts with the Risk Management Center. This powerful, web-based software suite offers an extensive array of proprietary tools designed to prevent and minimize losses. Gain access to hundreds of resources, including sample safety programs, technical cut sheets, white papers, and hazard mitigation information. These invaluable tools seamlessly integrate with and enhance your existing safety and HR programs.

Best of all, Berkley Life Sciences policyholders can access the entire system and all its features completely free of charge. For more information, click here or go to our website.
